Louis C.K. wasn't prepared for his Emmy nomination

By Joe Flint

- 1 Like the character in his comedy show Louie, Louis C.K. was ready for bad news when the Emmy Award nominations were announced Thursday morning.
- 2 "I was expecting to be disappointed," said C.K., who was nominated for lead actor in a comedy series. Louie has become a cult hit for cable TV network FX. A dark show starring C.K. as a somewhat depressed comedian struggling to make sense of the world around him, Louie is not the type of comedy that the sometimes conservative Academy of Television Arts & Sciences Emmy voters typically embrace. Besides being peppered with language that is raw even for cable, Louie is unafraid to address taboo topics in the raunchiest of ways. His character often finds himself in awkward situations with results that swing seamlessly between the comic and the tragic.
- 3 C.K. attributes his success among critics and viewers to the network's creative freedom – an atmosphere that encourages him to explore his inner demons and put it all on the screen. "It takes a huge amount of courage on their part, that's why I'm glad to pay them back with this," C.K. said of the network.
- 4 In typical C.K. mode, the comedian doesn't give himself much of a chance of winning on Emmy night, which is slated for Sept. 18. "I'm pretty outclassed there," he said of his fellow acting nominees, which include Steve Carell of The Office and Alec Baldwin of 30 Rock. But even if he doesn't get a statue, C.K. figures he and network FX have already won. "We don't expect to get serious consideration. Still, that doesn't matter. We've proven that if you spend a hundredth of the money the big networks do, you can land at the same place."
